

NON-FERROUS METALS

Relocation – Metals Foundry

Location
Seattle, Washington

Services Provided
SeaCon served as the team leader for the redevelopment / relocation of Non-Ferrous Metals. In this capacity, SeaCon administered the design team selection, provided pre-construction services including value engineering, and assisted in permit expediting. SeaCon subsequently provided construction management services for the construction of the new facility.

Actual Work Performed
Relocation Consultant / Negotiations
Design-Build Construction Manager
Pre-Engineered Steel Design & Erection
Installation management of nine (9) specialty lead, zinc & aluminum melting pots, processed water piping and dust control system

Owner
Jack & Joann McGee
230 East Chicago Street
Seattle, Washington 98108

